'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

One of the most interesting features over the radio on Friday night is the re-broadcasting of some of the biggest sporting events of by-gone years.

Last Friday night, over radio KGO, a broadcast of a world championship battle, fought in the latter part of the last century was put on the air.

And the announcer did it in such a manner that most of the listeners forgot that the fight was buried in the dim past and were tremendously excited throughout the "bout."

Perhaps there were many who listened in Friday night who had actually seen that fight.

It must have been an interesting experience to hear that same fight over the air years later.

But say what you may, the radio will never replace the theater or the newspapers.

For the radio lacks that something that makes these talkies and the legitimate drama close to one.

We heard recently that a struggling young novelist had a successful book published.

And the most peculiar thing about the whole affair was that the author had never swam the English Channel had never flown across the Atlantic or Pacific, or never had been divorced or in a stage or screen actress.

We still can't figure it out.

Maybe the day of miracles has not passed.

But, we doubt it.

Emerson wrote, not many years ago, "There is health in table-talk and nursery play."

"We must wear old shoes and have aunts and cousins."

In the words of the poets, Emerson said a mouthful.

DeMolay Boys Name Officers

Election of officers was held at last night's meeting of the DeMolays.

Succeeding the office of Master Councilor was Harry Koses, with Laurence Thiers receiving the post of senior councilor; Jack Hosmer, junior councilor and Edward Hood, scribe.

No definite date has been set for the installation of officers but it is expected to take place the last week in July.

Plans were discussed for a big dance to be held the latter part of August.

The ping pong tournament got off to a flying start last night with a number of athletes enrolled. Preparations are also going forward for the theater party at the Dufwin theater in Oakland the latter part of August.

It was announced last night that the Richmond second degree team would confer the work on a group of Richmond candidates who have already had the first degree Aug. 1 at Oakland chapter.

Oakland Man To Face Charges

Willis Chambers, 323 East Twelfth street, Oakland was released from the El Cerrito city jail yesterday afternoon on $2000 bail, following his arrest on a charge of reckless driving. According to Officers Arthur Peralta and Floyd Gilbert who made the arrest, Chambers was seen driving in an erratic manner on San Pablo avenue.

MOCH ILL
Mose Moch, former manager of the Richmond San Rafael ferry company is reported seriously ill at the St. Helena sanitarium following a major operation there recently. Mr. and Mrs. Moch have been residing in Calistoga while Moch regains his health.

NO ACTION TAKEN BY BOARD

Budgets for the year were presented at a finance committee meeting of the City Council on Wednesday night at the city hall.

The Library Board, the School Board, the Chamber of Commerce and the Health Center were the four organizations that laid their needs for the year before the city council.

According to City Manager J. A. McVittie, the budgets presented by these four groups were about the same as last year, with the exception of the Chamber of Commerce.

No action was taken by the committee, other than to hear the arguments of officials of the four groups presenting its needs.

At the same time it was announced that McVittie was in the midst of preparing his budget for the year. No indications were made whether there will be an increase or decrease in this plan.

The city manager's budget, and the budgets of the four organizations will be laid before the city council for action at a meeting in August.

Officials of the four organizations present at the meeting included: Chamber of Commerce, E. B. Bull, Fred D. Parr, W. Trull and P. M. Sanford; Library board, Mrs. Norah McNeill, city librarian; Health Center, J. W. Smiley and Mrs. Norah Purviance; School Board, J. O. Ford.

Councilman W. W. Scott presided over the session of the committee.

2 COTTAGES TO BE BUILT

Two cottages will be built in Richmond, according to permits issued by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley yesterday.

The permits were issued to Herbert Green. One cottage will cost $6000 and the other will cost $5000. The $6000 cottage will be erected on Dimm avenue, between Nevin and Barrett avenues.

The $5000 cottage will be built on Key boulevard, between Nevin and Barrett avenues.

Both cottages will have basement garages.

Mrs. Paddock In Divorce Plea

MARTINEZ, July 10.—Accusing her husband, Elbridge Paddock, of association with other women, and alleging that in June of this year he made an overnight trip to Santa Cruz with another woman, Mrs. Genevieve Paddock of Richmond, today filed suit for divorce. According to the complaint, the couple was married in San Jose in February of 1926, and separated last month. Mrs. Paddock, who is represented by Attorney T. M. Carlson, asks $40 a month alimony.

Baptist Men To Hold Meeting

The Baptist Men's club will hold their regular monthly dinner meeting tonight at 6:30 in the church auditorium, with Rev. Primus Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church as the guest speaker.

C. E. Parker is to preside and several musical numbers have been arranged for the program. Vocal solos will be presented by Mrs. Clarence Dunlap, with Mrs. Clyde Parker accompanying.

Naval Maneuvers At S. F. Aug. 17

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—UP—E. Jack Spaulding, chairman of the airport committee of the San Francisco board of supervisors, announced today that the annual navy air maneuvers will probably be held here August 17 to 24 while 200 warships are engaging in technical practice off this port.

SENATE VOTES TO ASK FOR PAPERS IN NAVAL PACT

WASHINGTON, July 10.—UP—A resolution calling on President Hoover to produce the secret reports of Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and other documents leading up to the London naval treaty, was adopted by the senate today.

An administration victory in the fight over this phase of the treaty which has consumed nearly a week of debate, was registered in adoption of an amendment which made the resolution ask for disclosure of this data only if compatible with the public interest.

The compatibility clause was regarded by most senators as much more important than the resolution itself. The vote for modification of the resolution was 38 to 17, with anti treaty senators and a few others in opposition. The resolution itself passed 53 to 4.

Senate Scored
Immediately after the vote, which was regarded as a favorable augury for the treaty's ratification, Senator George, Dem. Cal., denounced the senate for having denied itself the right to examine the foundations of this treaty—and setting a precedent for withholding such information in future. He said if public opinion were stirred over the subject of the treaty, the "highhanded" action of the state department in withholding the documents would result in rejection of the naval pact.

McKellar, Dem. Tenn., a treaty opponent, was author of the resolution and Robinson, Dem. Ark., a naval conference delegate, offered the modifying amendment, Reed, Repn., another delegate, said he had no opposition to the resolution as amended.

A perfecting amendment which may soften the adamant attitude of Hoover and the department against making public the documents was adopted on motion of George. This is a suggestion that the president send with the documents any suggestion he may have as to how they shall be handled—

Mrs. J. E. Turner, 39 Fifth street is now recuperating at her home from a serious illness of two weeks. She is as yet unable to receive visitors.

GAS PRICES HIT NEW LOW

With the dropping of gasoline to eight cents a gallon in San Francisco yesterday, it was announced that the Federal government had taken a hand in the present gas war, and agents have been making a quiet investigation the past few days.

Despite the unprecedented drop in San Francisco, Richmond prices remained at 13 cents, although it was rumored that before the end of the gas war, three-cent gas would be available in eastbay cities.

At the present time, certain brands of gasoline are selling at five cents a gallon in Fresno which includes the three-cent tax.

Low Cost
All this means that dealers are selling gasoline at considerable below cost and are making no profit on their sales.

If the price should drop to three cents a gallon, as predicted, dealers would be practically giving away the motor fuel as a three-cent tax is exacted on each gallon sold.

Governor Young yesterday refused to take action to end the war, unless the industry exhausts all means to bring peace.

State Loses

Other features of the gas war revealed yesterday were: Announcement by State Controller Riley that the state stands to lose nearly $1,000,000 through failure of small dealers unable to pay the state tax of three cents a gallon; predicted failure of 50 to 75 per cent of the small stations; agitation by small independent stations operators to "shut up shop" until the war was over; and a move for conference of major oil refiners in Los Angeles to reach an end to the price cutting.

The governor's refusal to take action to end the war, was in answer to an appeal from the Retail Gasoline Service Station operators of San Francisco.

Governor Young, in a telegram to Joseph Devenant, president of the organization, pointed out that recent decisions of the United States Supreme court, make it "extremely doubtful if gasoline can be constituted a public utility."

BOY HELD FOR SLAYING TOT

LONG BEACH, July 10.—UP—Without a show of emotion LaVerne McDonald, 7, described to authorities today how he pushed James Roland Ellis a 3-year old playmate, into a flood control channel near here and held the boy's head under water until he drowned.

"I can hold my head under water in the bath tub with my eyes closed," the McDonald boy said. "It hadn't ought to have hurt him any."

The boy, who was taken to the juvenile hall in Los Angeles, told how he finally let the small Ellis boy go, threw the baby's clothes into the shallow river and went to his home.

Eygal Heltzen In Divorce Plea

MARTINEZ, July 10.—After one month and 16 days of married life, Eygal Heltzen, of Richmond, today filed suit for divorce against Mrs. Theresa R. Heltzen, charging desertion.

Heltzen, in his complaint declares the couple were married in Reno May 25, 1925, and his wife deserted him in July of the same year. He is represented by T. M. Carlson.

Girl Has Finger Amputated Here

Josephine Duca, eight year old Richmond girl yesterday had this small finger on her left hand amputated at the Hospital Richmond as the result of an accident when she caught her finger in a meat grinder.

RALPH FLEAGLE HANGED

5 DEAD IN PLANE BLAST

PILOT, FOUR PASSENGERS KILLED

ARANSAS PASS, Tex., July 10.—UP—An explosion shattered an airplane as it flew swiftly thru the clouds about 5 miles west of here today and hurled four prominent Kansas City men and their pilot to death below.

The accident ended the men's lives as they were returning to their homes from a short fishing trip to Corpus Christ, Texas. Aransas Pass is situated on a strip of land between the Bay and the Gulf of Mexico, near the southern tip of the state.

The dead:
Murat Boyle, former president of the Missouri Bar association.
R. J. Delano, realtor and former chairman of the Republican city committee.

Raymond Watson, attorney.
Eugene Lynn, executive of the Dorsey H. Lynn, underwriters.
K. E. Gabbert, pilot for Dr. W. M. Cross of the Kansas City Testing Laboratories, owner of the plane.

Blast Seen

Employees on the J. R. Barry ranch were the only witnesses to the explosion and crash of the plane, a 5-passenger, single motored carrier. The only theory they could offer for the sudden disaster was that an electrical discharge jumped between the hovering clouds and ignited the plane's fuel. They said there was a possibility a wing may have broken before the explosion.

Exact determination of the accident cause probably will be difficult.

Police Quell Circus Wreckers

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—An attempt by two strong men to wreck a circus located on the outskirts of this city was frustrated by the Pittsburgh police and fire departments this morning.

About five o'clock this morning, police were called to the circus grounds on a report that two giants were wrecking the circus. Two policemen were dispatched to the scene and found two men, each weighing over 200 pounds in conflict with other circus helpers.

The giants defied the police, who, using their billyes, were able to subdue the circus wreckers. At the police station it was necessary for the fire department to be called to awaken the unconscious men.

Moose Lodge Plans Picnic

In preparation for the big frolic and picnic to be held at California park, Sept. 7, a delegation of the Alameda Legion of Oakland last night visited the Richmond Moose lodge.

According to the announcement, all legions will be invited, and the affair will be for members of the Moose lodges only.

Plans were also made last night for an initiation to be held Aug. 7, and for an open house meeting July 31. At the latter date the public will be invited to attend.

ON VISIT

Virginia Wells of Ninth street and Florence Christopher of 401 Tenth street are spending the week at Camp Lokoya in Napa county.

GUESTS HERE

Mrs. T. L. Beddoes, of 613 Chambers avenue, is hostess to her sister, Lavone Gallyer of Salt Lake City. Miss Gallyer made a surprise visit.

87 VICTIMS CLAIMED BY HEAT WAVE IN MIDWEST

CHICAGO, July 10.—UP—The midwest's heat ogre, after roasting the entire area in temperatures fluttering around the 100 degree mark, chalked up 87 deaths to his credit tonight.

Of that number, 29 succumbed to the heat itself while 58 drowned in attempts to cool off in lakes, rivers and swimming pools. Other scores collapsed on the streets and in their homes while literally the whole population of the 14 affected states sweltered.

Only in the Chicago area, protected by the breezes from Lake Michigan, was it reasonably cool. Elsewhere in the midwest the thermometers remained near the top of the column. Official weather reports indicated Miles City, Mont. was the hottest place in the United States when the temperature there yesterday touched 118.

It was 104 in Omaha, Neb. and Pierre, S. D.; 102 in Birmingham, Ala.; Des Moines, Iowa; Sheridan, Wyo.; Sioux City, Iowa and Yuma, Ariz. and 100 in Atlanta, Ga., Ill.; Evansville, Ind.; Kansas City, Mo.; Memphis, Tenn.; Rapid City, S. D. and Shreveport, La. A.

The weather bureau indicated that the heat wave gradually was breaking up, but that it would continue tomorrow in the southern half of the north central states. In the northwestern portion, said the bureau, temperatures will go somewhat lower while in most northern areas thunder storms will serve to bring the thermometers back to normal.

162 DEAD IN MINE BLAST

MEURODE, Silesia July 10.—UP—UP—No hope was held out tonight that 70 men still trapped in a coal mine here could be brought out alive but rescuers continued their efforts to reach the entombed men.

Ninety-two bodies had been recovered, and it was feared the others were dead—bringing the total dead to at least 162 in the horrible disaster which has shocked this little mining town.

Forty-nine men were taken to hospitals, badly gassed and otherwise injured. Escaping carbonic gas was given as the cause of the explosion which resulted in the shattering of shafts and the deaths and injuries of most of the 211 men trapped.

Crockett Man Death 'Accident'

CROCKETT, July 10.—A verdict of accidental drowning was returned by a coroner's jury at an inquest into the death of Lawrence Rasmussen, 55, whose body was taken from the water of the Carquinez straits last week by Crockett fishermen.

Coroner Aubrey Wilson conducted the inquest, during which it was brought out that the man had presumably tripped over rocks along the shore and fallen headlong into the waters.

HAS OPERATION

Virginia Dalton, 1721 Lee street Modesto, underwent an operation at the Hospital Richmond yesterday, necessitated by a fractured arm received in a fall a week ago.

MISS NOONAN HOME

Miss Florence Noonan, who has been attending school in Nogales, Ariz., is spending her vacation in Richmond with friends and relatives.

600 ESCAPE WHEN FIRE BURNS MINE

LEAD, S. D. July 10.—UP—Six hundred men in the lower levels of the Luslon Holst Homestead company's mine escaped tonight when fire broke out at 8 p. m. in the steam hoist, one of the largest in the United States.

The blaze soon was beyond control.

A loss of $1,000,000 was feared by officials of the company, who said the fire evidently started from hot bearings in the electrical machinery.

Forest Fire Sweeps Hills

REDDING, July 10.—UP—A serious forest fire was spreading up the slopes of Mt. Baldy, eight miles from Hayford tonight.

An urgent appeal for fire fighters was received here from Trinity national forest.

Rangers in the forest reported that 500 acres of timber had been destroyed since the fire started this morning and the flames were out of control.

One hour after the call for help was received here 50 men had been started for Hayford, 70 miles away in trucks and touring cars.

Mooney Witness Hunted In Texas

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, July 10.—UP—Police Chief Frank Burns acting on information contained in a United Press dispatch tonight began an investigation to determine whether or not the John MacDonald, under treatment in a hospital here for injuries received when slugged and robbed near Bellevue today, is the John MacDonald wanted in San Francisco as a key witness for Tom Mooney in connection with the Preparedness Day bombing of 1916.

The investigation was launched on the basis of the dispatch saying that the Mooney - Billings defense league had instituted a wide search for John MacDonald.

VACATIONISTS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Whittlesey, and family of Twelfth street, are home from Yosemite where they spent a delightful three week vacation. Mrs. C. L. Linnell and her daughter, Mrs. Francis Helm, spent the Fourth of July holidays with them.

BETRAYER OF PALS DIES AT PRISON

CANON CITY, Colo., July 10.—UP—Ralph Fleagle's head was thrust through a noose, he was jerked upward and died on the gallows of the Colorado prison tonight.

Fleagle was the leader and the first of the Lamar bank bandits to pay the supreme penalty. Two accomplices, Howard Royston, engineer and George Absher, railway brakeman, are under sentence to hang next week for their part in the bank robbery murders.

The trap that yanked Fleagle to death was sprung at 9:03 and Fleagle was pronounced dead at 9:16 p. m.

Had Priest

He went to his death accompanied by Father Regis Barrett, Catholic chaplain of the prison, who had been with him most of the time during his final day.

The execution was witnessed by L. E. Alderman, sheriff of Prowers county, who led an untiring search throughout the country for the bandit; Dr. F. E. Caskburn, Holy, Colo.; W. E. Garrett, sheriff of Fremont county; Dr. R. E. Holmes, prison physician; Dr. Thomas A. Davis, of Portland, Colo.; W. E. Garrett, cashier of the lotted bank; Gurley Hayden, of Granada, foreman of the jury which condemned Fleagle; Guy Furlough, undersheriff of Prowers county; Joe Starko, of Pueblo, and Henry Koerner, undersheriff of Fremont county.

The body was turned over to R. Seavarda, Canon City undertaker, for preparation for shipment to Garden City, Kan., where it will be cremated and the ashes turned over to relatives.

Neck Broken
Fleagle's neck was broken by the first jerk of the rope. It was one of the quickest hangings in prison history.

He was baptised at 8:15 p. m.

WOMEN FIGHT FOR CHILD

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—UP—An eight weeks old baby girl was carried into police court here today and the legal battle of two women to be recognized as mother of the infant was started.

Mrs. Bertha Higdon, who was brought here from San Bernardino on a warrant which charged kidnapping, carried the baby who is center of dispute into court and held her during all the preliminary proceedings.

As her eyes roved about the room they fastened on the gaze of Mrs. Ruth Smith, who claiming she gave birth to the child and gave her away the day she was born "because I was scared I didn't know how to look after it."

As the two women stared at each other Mrs. Higdon jumped to her feet and started from the room, exclaiming "take me out of here."

Mrs. Smith watched the scene in amazement and declared: "I don't want Mrs. Higdon sent to jail. I don't want to appear against her. Do I have to? I only want my baby back."

Police Judge George Steiger announced he would appoint "an advisory jury of mothers" to hear the arguments of Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Higdon and help him decide the case.

THE WEATHER

Fair and mild Friday and Saturday with fog in the early morning. Moderate west winds.

REFINERY WINS IN STANDARD OIL LEAGUE

After being kept in the hole during the greater part of five innings, the Refinery came through with a heavy hitting attack in the sixth period yesterday afternoon to conquer the Mechanics 5 to 3.

The Refinery boys were unable to do anything toward making a score during the first three innings, while Soby and Bonham crossed home plate for the Mechanics. The Refinery tied the score in the fourth period, when Billy Lane and Deardoff scored. However, the Mechanics again jumped ahead of the Refinery in the same inning, Ellison scoring.

But the Mechanics were doomed to disappointment in the three final innings. A hitting spell in the sixth clinched the game for the Refinery. Deardoff, Bertoli and Armstrong did the scoring in that final inning.

Many Hits

Hits were rather frequent in yesterday's clash. Wolfgram, pitching for the Refinery, allowed six hits, no bases on balls, and struck out three Mechanics.

Kersten checked the entire game for the Mechanics, allowing nine hits, three walks and whiffed four Refinery sluggers.

Accidents were in order yesterday. Tony Lamarra was bashed on his visual apparatus while attempting to nab a fast grounder in the hot patch.

Spike Again

"Arney Armentrout attempted to perform an acrobatic stunt when sliding to third bag in the fourth inning. He stumbled on his way to the base, and landed on his back one yard nearer the bleachers.

"Spike" Elder was also in for more than his quantity of mishaps. "Plunk," that peculiar sound that occurs when a baseball hits a stomach protector, echoed across the First street diamond intermittently during the entire game.

Outside of these mishaps, the situation was fairly peaceable at First street.

The box score:

Armour Leads In Golf Play At Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., July 10.—UP—A'long about the time when a scorching summer sun, which had taken terrific toll of scores at Interlachen today was heading down towards the forest-fringed horizon, the two veterans of the golfing wars came strolling home late in the afternoon to take a joint lead over all the field in the national open championship.

Tommy Armour, the lanky Scot, who is baked such a fuselion brown that the sun's fierce rays cannot affect him, and Macdonald Smith, the old timer who tied for the title 20 years ago and never got that close again, are out in front of the field at Interlachen with first round scores of 70, two under par.

This pair finished late in the day, to head off Bobby Jones and Whiffy Cox, who had been enjoying an early joint leadership with cards of 71.

Coffee Prices Draw Warning

TOKYO, July 10.—UP—Reports received here of a current, overproduction of coffee in Brazil may have an important effect on the Japanese immigration to that country, officials of the Ministry of Overseas Affairs admit.

According to reliable information the ministry has cabled instructions to Consul general Nakashima at Sao Paulo, to warn Japanese planters in Brazil not to depend entirely upon the coffee crops in this and future years, but to cultivate cotton, sugarcane and other crops as a method of self-protection in the event of a serious drop in the coffee market.

Officials of the ministry are quoted as saying that they believe the world coffee production has reached, if not passed, the world demand, resulting in a serious situation. They base this belief on figures received from Brazil, which state that a sharp price drop has resulted from Brazil's last year's bumper crop of 14,000 bags.

A large number of Japanese also are engaged in coffee growing on the Kona coast of Hawaii, the largest island of the Hawaiian group.

LEGION JUNIOR BALL TEAMS TO MEET

A three game series for the American Legion Junior baseball team of Contra Costa county will start this afternoon at First street when the Legion nines of Richmond and Antioch tangle at 4:30 o'clock.

The pick of the younger class of baseball players of the county will be seen in action this afternoon. The boys on the local squad were picked for county competition from more than 300 other youngsters who were playing on the 30 odd teams in the Richmond league. All these boys who will play today are not yet 17 years of age, yet they have been showing during the past season that they will be excellent material for senior leagues and teams in the near future. In fact, several of these up-and-coming diamond artists have been occupying the ranks of twilight league teams very creditably.

Therefore there is no reason to believe that it is not vacant lot baseball that will be witnessed at First street today.

The Richmond outfit has smashed through to victory in two series of two games with the Crockett and Bay Point nines. They may be reckoned upon to hand the visiting Antioch boys fast and heavy opposition in the three game series opening here today.

Gordon Lemon will probably chuck for Richmond, with either Crocker, Santrela or Novascone behind the plate.

Solons Beaten By Hollywood

SACRAMENTO, July 10.—UP—

The Sacramento Senators can hope for no better than a tie with Los Angeles for first place of the Pacific Coast league when the first half of the season ends Sunday as a result of the beating they took from Hollywood here tonight.

With Turner hurling shut-out ball, Hollywood won 3 to 0. Thomas, who was on the mound for Sacramento, also turned in a good performance, allowing only six hits, but they were bunched by Hollywood in the fifth, eighth and ninth innings for runs.

Lucky

JOSEPH COWLEY, of the Seaside, N. Y. police department is Officer 13. He has been wearing the "unlucky" badge for three years and has never been injured.

Seattle Wins Game From Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—UP—The 7 to 1 victory of Seattle over Los Angeles today prolonged the battle of the Angels to clinch first place of the Pacific Coast league for the first half of the season which ends Sunday.

Los Angeles must be more than a game ahead of Sacramento Sunday night to hold the title at that time. After the defeat today the Angels were three and a half games ahead of Sacramento, with four games to play and the possibility that their lead would be cut in the night game between Sacramento and Hollywood. If the Angels are only one game ahead of Sacramento at the end Sunday, a play-off of a 13 inning tie between the two teams will be necessary.

In other games today the San Francisco Missions beat Oakland 2 to 0, and Portland beat the San Francisco Seals, 6 to 2.

British Food Prices Rise

LONDON, July 10.—UP—Retail food prices in Great Britain average 43 percent more than in 1914 according to calculations by the Ministry of Labor.

The following table of price comparisons shows the cost of present day retail foods with those of 1914: British home grown beef sold for 68 percent more during 1936, than in 1914. Selling prices of chilled or frozen ribs and thin flanks of beef averaged 49 and 22 percent respectively more than the same month in 1914.

Increases in flour are placed at 45 percent, bread 48 percent, eggs 20 percent, milk 74 percent, bacon 54 percent, butter 44 percent and frozen mutton 71 percent. Potatoes sold at 8 percent below the pre-war price. Milk and frozen mutton commanded the greatest increases 74 percent.

CITY TWILIGHT LEAGUE WILL CLOSE TODAY

Conditions on the City Twilight league battlefield are in a mighty haze condition at the present time. The league season will officially close this afternoon when the Firemen are scheduled to tangle with the Standard Oil nine.

But, though officially closed, the championship of the league still remains a very open question.

Today's game will inevitably be forfeited to the Firemen due to the refinery team's failure to function during the latter part of the league season. The league will therefore be thrown into a triple tie, with the Odd Fellows, Native Sons, and Firemen all fighting for supremacy.

The situation is further complicated by a protest that has been filed by the Mechanics Bank team against the Native Sons. The bankers state that the Native Sons played an ineligible player in a contest between the Bankers and Native Sons.

Team officials are in a quandry over the prevailing condition, and it is expected that the dispute will have to be decided by a meeting of the league managers in the near future.

The usual things

IT IS DIFFICULT to imagine the world today without some of the things that make our living in it so pleasant and comfortable. How naturally we lift the telephone receiver, step into an automobile, and look for the news of the world in the newspaper — every day of our lives.

Another of these usual, invaluable things, accepted as part of the routine of existence, is the guidance given by the advertisements in this newspaper in supplying our wants from day to day. We read them. They help us to save time and money. And our lives go on — more easily and more fully.

Every day the advertisements suggest ways in which we can get things we want with the greatest possible satisfaction to ourselves. They tell us of new conveniences and comforts of which we would not otherwise have known. They help us to get down-to-the-dollar satisfaction. They assure us of proved values.

HEALTH

By DR. C. A. ESTERBERG

Mrs. P. F. writes: Dear Doctor: One of my children, a girl 18 years of age, is annoyed a good deal by an increased frequency of urination. She is apparently healthy and normal otherwise.

What would cause such a condition. Will you please answer thru the RECORD-HERALD. Mrs. P. F.

A great many diseases of the genito-urinary tract are accompanied by increased frequency of micturition. A person in health micturates about five times during the twenty-four hours, the total amount of urine passed being about fifty ounces. This will vary with the amount of fluid taken, and the amount lost by perspiration.

It is important to ascertain the relationship between micturition during the day and during the night. Normally, a healthy person should not wake during the night to pass urine unless an excess of fluid has been taken; but if any inflammatory condition is present during the night, as well as in the bladder, micturition will be as increased in frequency during the day.

Any form of cystitis, or acute inflammatory conditions in the neighboring organs will cause increased frequency both day and night. With vesical calculus there is an increased frequency during the day, but often no urination is necessary during the night. The frequency during the day is increased with exercise, or any jolting movement.

Increased frequency may be caused by mechanical obstruction, by renal colic, by hyperacidity of the urine and other causes.

Dear Doctor: My little boy has some awful night-mares. At times it seems as if he would almost go into a spasm. He is a normal boy in every way except perhaps a little high strung. We do not seem to be able to have him take things as easy as the other children. What ever he does, it is done quickly. He plays hard, and learns his lessons in much less time than his sister and brother. What may be the cause?

Nightmares may occur at any age, but they are particularly common in children between four and eight, when they may be so bad and persistent as to merit the term night-terrors. The most common cause for nightmare is indigestion in diet, frequently eating late in the evening.

Children are particularly prone to nightmares during school time, when they are working under high pressure; during the holidays the symptoms often disappear.

Those who are keenest upon their school work are apt to suffer the most, and they usually give evidence of excitability of the nervous system.

Night-terrors may occur without any other cause than over-pressure, particularly if they lie upon the back rather than upon one side during sleep; but the tendency is much increased by errors of diet, such as eating of unripe fruit and so forth, by the presence of intestinal worms, and by existence of adenoids, with or without enlarged tonsils.

Editors Note — Dr. Esterberg cannot diagnose, but will be glad to answer your questions in a general way in this column. Address Dr. Esterberg, in care of this paper.

Tells How Fat Men Can Lose Half a Pound a day

Here's a simple way to get rid of that corporation and quickly feel in both body and mind the joy of living.

It's a safe way, too—for every day you continue this easy method of losing unwanted and unneeded flesh, you'll gain in energy, vigor and endurance.

Nine times in ten obesity means inactivity — It means that your blood is starving for the six vital salts your internal organs need to keep you youthful, active, ambitious and keen in mind.

When you take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts every morning in a glass of hot or cold water you get these six vital salts which modern foods and cooking do not supply.

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the commonsense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys, and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

The urge for activity will be so marked that even at the end of a hard day's work, you'll feel ready for any social activity or recreation—you can play as hard as you work.

And after two weeks your excess flesh starts to go—you'll know it—feel it—see it—the scales will tell the story.

As one, once corpulent man remarked: "I feel so energetic that I want to get up with the lark and I'm just as lively as a cricket."

Kruschen Salts is not a purgative or a cathartic, but a real system conditioner and for those who are the victims of constipation or toxemia its daily use soon means blissful regularity.

Get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—lasts 4 weeks—at LaMoine Drug company, or any drugist in the world.

Sutro & Company Suspended From Stock Market

NEW YORK, July 10.—UP.—The final chapter in the colorful history of Manhattan Electrical Supply stock was recorded today in the suspension from the New York stock exchange for three years of the firm of Sutro & company, one of the largest stock exchange commission houses in the United States.

James H. McGean, floor member of Sutro & company, was suspended and the firm thus automatically eliminated from stock exchange privileges. Logan & Bryant will assume Sutro & company open exchange contracts.

Suspensions resulted from alleged wash sales in the stock of Manhattan Electrical supply a stock with a hectic career on the exchange for the last 10 years and one that caused loss of many fortunes and making of others.

New Members

McGean assumed membership of the exchange for the firm on February 20, last, succeeding Frederick L. Yeager whose membership dated back to January 17, 1929.

Sutro & company, in addition to their New York offices have branches in Los Angeles, Oakland and San Francisco, California.

The company is not to be confused with Sutro Bros. & Co., which in addition to its local offices has branches in Chicago, Philadelphia, Syracuse, Rochester and Auburn. Sutro Bros. & Co. of 120 Broadway stated today that they have no relationship financial or otherwise with Sutro & Co. of 44 Wall street.

After announcement of the suspension, Sutro & Co. issued a statement explaining that the firm was guilty of negligence and asking indulgence of its friends "in this heart-breaking period."

Stock Manipulated

"The charges," the statement said, "on which the action of the stock exchange was based were wholly in connection with transaction on behalf of a client in Manhattan Electrical Supply company's stock, all of which originated in a branch office at 16 East 44th street, New York City."

In its 10 years, Manhattan Electrical Supply with a small capitalization was the bane of many a stock market operator. The stock was manipulated in various ways by "insiders" and "outsiders." The attorney general recently obtained a promise from the company's president that he would no longer manipulate his stock.

REPUBLICANS SEE GOOD YEAR

WASHINGTON, July 10.—UP.—Republican primaries in one fourth of the states have indicated, party leaders say, that there is no under current of revolt within the party against the administration.

From the developments of the candidates for the house of representatives, they have gained a confidence in their ability to hold their majority there.

Off-year elections are notable for their tendency to throw out the "ins" and the final decision, which has been privately feared by many republicans, will not be made until the democrats and the republicans meet squarely at the polls in November.

The fights for senate places are in a different category. Democrats have little hope of capturing the control of the senate, because only three more than one-third of the senators are up, and there is but little chance of overturning the present republican margin of 17 votes.

Challenge Seen

The house margin of the republicans is 103 votes. Democrats would have to capture 53 seats and hold all their present ones to gain control, organize the house and seize the chairmanships of all committees and put the speakers gavel, now held by Nicholas Longworth, in the hand of John Nance Garner, of Texas.

In none of the 12 states which have nominated so far, including the important republican states of Pennsylvania, Illinois and New Jersey, has there been a serious challenge of the party organization.

Republican political men foresee they will lose some of the house seats won in the Hoover landslide of 1928 — some of those of the former "solid south" which now appears to be reverting to the democratic party, probably in Kentucky, North Carolina, Virginia, Missouri and perhaps also in Indiana.

Chances Good

But the problematical seats in these so-called "border" states do not number more than 40, say the republican leaders.

Upon the economic situation, they predict, may depend the ultimate outcome. If business and employment pick up after the new dull summer months, they expect their chances to be very good in November.

The only prominent incumbent in the house who has lost out in the primaries so far, is M. Alfred Michelson, of Illinois, who was first reported nominated, but who was more recently counted out in a checkup of votes. Leading republican house members in Illinois who stood successfully in the primary, include Chidambloom, Britten, Reed, Denson, DePriest, Yates and William and Morton Hull.

motorist on highways near here. The signs erected by the county road commission, are four feet high. At night the warning is shown by two cat's eyes.

BE PREPARED FOR OPPORTUNITIES

Opportunities have a way of presenting themselves to those who are prepared. It is the sum of ready money at the right time that builds a home, starts a business, buys a partnership, lays the foundation of a fortune, or in one way or another puts one on the high road to independence.

Getting ahead is largely a matter of getting started saving. Many persons promise themselves to start saving, but wait until they determine how much they have left after spending. Here is a suggestion: instead of saving what is left after spending, plan to spend what is left after saving. The important thing is to begin today.

THRILLS, ACTION IN COOPER FILM

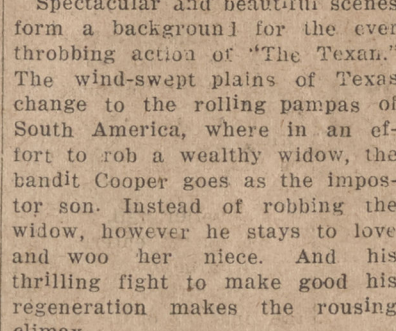

What one of the best beloved of American authors put into words, Paramount, with Gary Cooper in the leading role, has put into a lifelike, talking picture "The Texan," which opened a 2 day run, at the Fox California Theatre yesterday, is taken from O. Henry's immortal story, "A Double-Dyed Deceiver," and is the second of the spectacular, outdoor talking epics which Paramount initiated with "The Virginian."

"The Texan" comes in at a gallop and gallops his way straight into the heart of the audience. He's gay, debonaire, swaggering—the same Cooper who won hearts in "Wolf Song," "Seven Days Leave," "Legion of the Condemned," and, more recently and particularly, "The Virginian." Here he makes love to beautiful Fay Wray, who is devastating as a South American scortia.

Spectacular and beautiful scenes form a background for the ever throbbing action of "The Texan." The wind-swept plains of Texas change to the rolling pampas of South America, where in an effort to rob a wealthy widow, the bandit Cooper goes as the impostor son. Instead of robbing the widow, however he stays to love and woo her niece. And his thrilling fight to make good his regeneration makes the rousing climax.

The excellent work of John Cromwell, who made William Powell's "Street of Chance," is evident in the clever handling of this subject. Twists of humor turn the tense dramatic situations. There is fun, as well as thrill, in "The Texan."

Talking comedy "The Bearded Lady."

PARIS—The little town of Berry is all tangled up in the family affairs of the P's. It all started when Madame C., a comely widow with two daughters not hard to gaze upon, solved a squabble among the three B brothers over the girls by snapping up the eldest of the three herself. During the past 30 days all three brides have become mothers. Two of the youngsters have a grand mother who also is their aunt. That good lady has an offspring who is his sister's nephew and his uncle's brother-in-law. Whereas her husband is his brothers' father-in-law and the grandfather and uncle of their children. All those concerned seem, surprisingly enough, to be bearing up rather well.

She Steps Out At The Fox Here Tomorrow

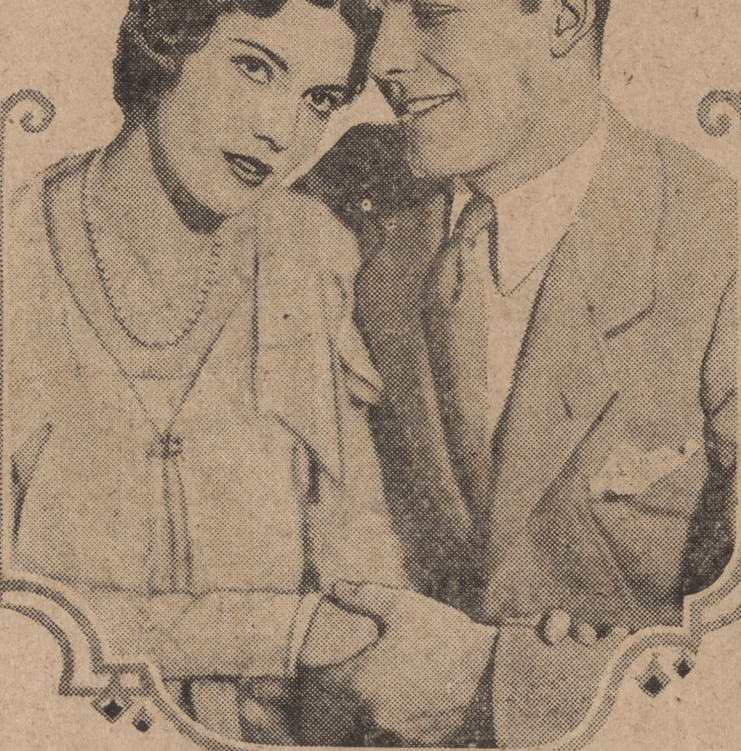

William Collier, Sr., and Elizabeth Patterson are father and mother of three children, Marguerite Churchill, Charles Eaton and Charlotte Henry. The father's promotion to superintendent of a steel mill precipitates plenty of trouble and lofty ambitions on the part of the rest of the family.

How the father surmounts the difficulties that arise furnishes mighty fine and human entertainment. "She Steps Out" ably directed by Hamilton McFadden, is shown on the same program with other attractive features.

We are of the opinion that Collier's acting is especially fine, and the rest support him most commendably.

Also on the program is a Lloyd Hamilton comedy entitled "Camera Shy."

"PHANTOM OF OPERA" NOW IN SOUND

Spectacular scenes, dramatic thrills and entrancing music last night marked the first showing at the Richmond Theater of "The Phantom of the Opera," a Universal super-thrill picture in sound and dialogue. This picture was an enormous success when recently released as a silent picture. Universal has now fitted it out with sound and dialogue with remarkable results.

Penfield Man Perfect In Test

DU BOIS, Pa., July 10.—UP—George W. Rosenkrans, a composer of Penfield submitted to a test conducted over the country by a radio firm. It is a test to see how well cultivated the ear is from a musical standpoint.

Rosenkrans made 100 per cent by telling how many voices he heard in a selection; by telling how many male voices; how many female voices; which of the tones were higher; harmony, discord; the names of different instruments that were played.

He is the first person in the section to make a perfect score.

Cure For Divorce Told By Judge

EL PASO, Tex.—Judge Ballard Goldwell of the 34th district court believes there would be less divorce if people would get acquainted before marriage. "Folks too often do not enter into marriage with the thoughtfulness and preparations that they once did," Judge Goldwell said. FIVE KILLED IN PLANE BLAST ficult. The craft went to pieces in the air, its motor and other heavy parts screaming downward and pieces of the wings and fuselage drifting more slowly to earth.

"The ship was sailing along smoothly about 4000 feet high," Barry said. "It exploded as if struck by an anti-aircraft shell. There was nothing left but a falling mass of wreckage. There was no fire.

Small Pieces

"We couldn't find a piece more than two feet square in the entire heap. The bodies were scattered about on the ground. They fell clear of the wreckage of the destroyed plane for the most part."

Barry and his employees took the bodies to their ranch house and later they were removed to Taft, a village about 14 miles distant. Dr. Cross, who did not accompany his friends on the trip and was waiting them at the airfield in Kansas City when told of the accident, left for Taft to take the bodies back.

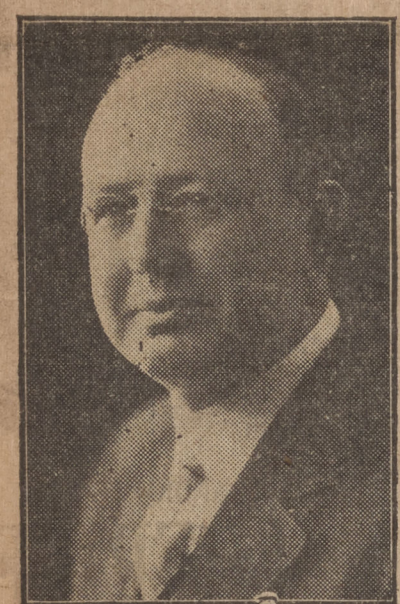

Gabbert agreed to fly the plane to Texas when Dr. Cross loaned it to the men. He was considered an expert pilot and had more than 15,000 hours of flying experience.

The party took off from Port Aransas at 10:30 a. m. for the return home. F. H. Dierks, of Kansas City, vice president of the Dierks Lumber company, waved the men off. He had been fishing with them and remained to continue the sport a few days longer.

Watson, one of the victims, came into prominence three years ago, when he assisted former senator James A. Red in defense of Henry Ford in a $1,000,000 libel suit.

Vivian Will Press Charges Against Actor

HOLLYWOOD, July 10.—UP—Hollywood was on the alert tonight, wondering if a flurry of fistcliffs will result from the black eye and sundry bruises ascribed to Miss Duncan, bent upon physical combat.

Rumor in the film colony was to the effect that Nils Asther, Scandinavian actor, often reported engaged to Miss Duncan, was stalking the trail of Lease, bent upon physical combat.

Some of Asther's friends said that the actor kept a vigil of several hours before the club where Lease lived but saw no sign of his quarry.

Hearing Delayed.

Meanwhile Lease appeared before a justice of the peace at Malibu Beach and heard battery charges against him postponed until July 31.

Miss Duncan, it was explained, is resting in a Hollywood hospital, while she nurses a black eye, a sore nose and numerous bruises she declares Lease inflicted when she resented his attentions after a party last Sunday at the home of Charles Farrell, prominent Hollywood actor.

Vivian, the "Eva" half of the "Topsy and Eva" sister team, had a bunch of roses Leach sent to her at the hospital, but said that she had not yet accepted the floral display as a peace offering.

Kicked Her.

"I think I'll go through with the prosecution," she declared. "It was his kicking me while I was down that really made me mad."

Miss Duncan also said that she had talked with District Attorney Buron Fitts and that she intended to do so again when she felt better, and after she had consulted her attorney.

25,000 Sign King's Book

TORONTO, Ont., July 10.—UP—Loyal expressions of fealty to King George V. and expressions of thanksgiving for his recovery from his recent dangerous illness are embodied in "The King's Copy of Gratitude," bearing the signatures of some 25,000 school children and teachers, which is on its way to London.

The book, a large leather bound volume of 900 folios, is prefaced by the following inscription: "To his most gracious majesty, King of Great Britain and Ireland and the dominions beyond the seas: We, whose signatures appear hereunder, wish to express our deep sense of gratitude for the recovery of your majesty from your recent serious illness and we earnestly desire that your majesty will be pleased to accept this volume when presented in our behalf."

The title page bears an index of the name and location of the 780 schools represented by the signatures.

Each signature is testimony that the signer has memorized "Gratitude" the empire hymn of thanks, giving for the king's recovery.

The book is to be presented to his majesty on Empire Day.

Worn Tire Should Be Replaced

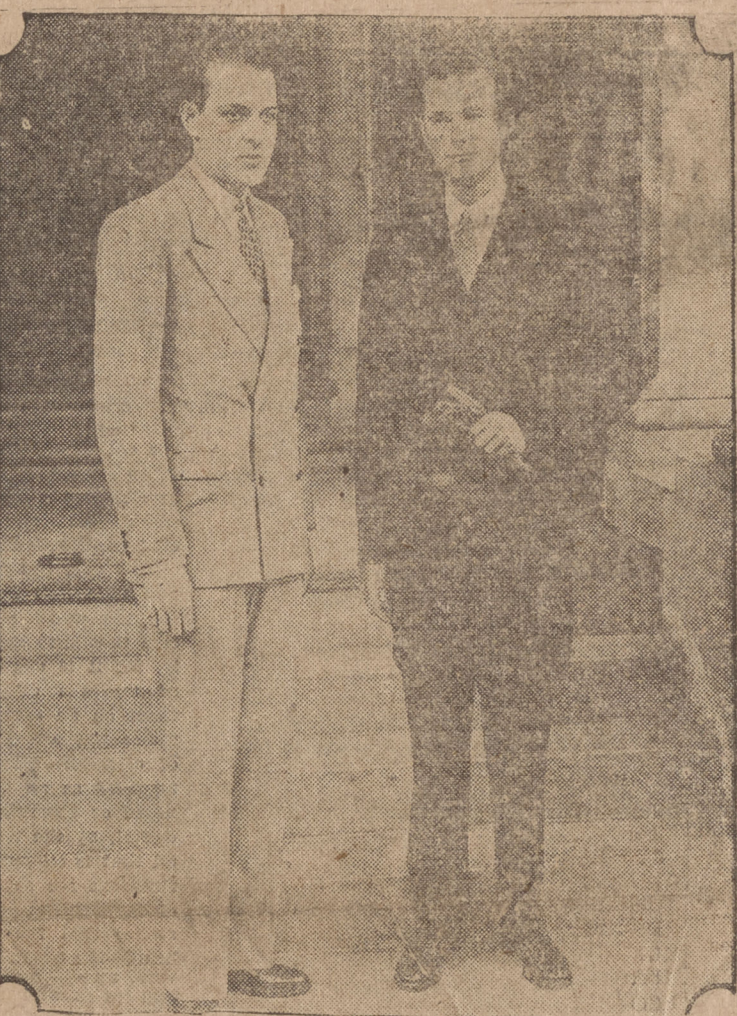

The tire that is "down to the fabric" should be replaced by the spare, or a new tire, suggests L. G. Evans, general service manager, National Automobile club. By following this advice the badly worn tire may render several months duty as a spare instead of terminating life with an ill-timed blow-out.

Obey Signals At Railroad Crossings

"Obey grade crossing signals for your protection."

This is the slogan for the July campaign of the California Committee on Public Safety, statewide organization of authorities and agencies interested in reducing traffic risks and accidents.

With the completion this week of the educational campaign for the motoring public on the provisions of the law and the dictates of common sense that apply to driving across grade crossings, the period of strict enforcement begins, it was announced today by Senator Arthur H. Breed, chairman of the committee.

The committee is engaged in a year round campaign, which each month stresses one traffic hazard. It has the co-operation of traffic law enforcement agencies, both state and local. Superintendent Eugene Biscailuz of the California Highway Patrol has issued orders to state traffic police to begin strict enforcement of the law in respect to grade crossings. All motorists this means stopping at grade crossings where signals are given by flagmen or automatic devices. For common carrier buses, school buses, and all trucks carrying explosives or inflammable liquids, it means stopping at all grade crossings.

Police chiefs in all major cities are also co-operating with the committee, and have issued similar enforcement orders.

Motorists are urged to watch for and obey railway stop signals. It always is a wise idea to slow down and look both ways before crossing a railway track. Motorists for their own protection should observe and obey grade crossing signals. Wig wags and automatic signals have been placed at practically all hazardous crossings in California, so that motorists who drive with care need not run afoul of railroad trains.

PAINT PLANT TO LOCATE HERE

Plans for a fire resistant paint factory to be located in Richmond were announced yesterday, when it became known that the first official test of the paint will be made this afternoon at the city corporation yard. The test is to be under the supervision of Fire Chief W. P. Cooper.

According to backers of the new plant, which is to be located at Thirteenth and Sutter streets, the paint product possesses the best fire resistant qualities of any product on the market. The test to be held today in Richmond is along similar lines to those conducted in other cities.

A small section of a regular cedar shingle roof will be coated with the paint, and heaped with quick burning materials, and then ignited. Two other brands of roofing material, either untreated or treated with competing brands of paint will also be fired, and Fire Chief Cooper will make a record of the length of time the fire burns, making a report on the condition of the two roofs at the end of the test.

E. J. Duffy is president of the corporation, and W. C. Dohrmann will be the local manager. According to the plans, the first unit will be under construction in the near future, and will be in operation this fall.

Duffy, in his announcement, said, "We have selected Richmond for the many transportation advantages it possesses and also because the raw materials we require are found in this city."

STATESVILLE, N. C.—Even the chickens have caught the spirit of the age and are stepping on the gas to keep up with the fast pace man has set, according to W. B. Crowson, poultry raiser, who heard one of his roosters crow at the age of 17 days. It is said this young fowl at the age of three weeks succeeded in developing the art of crowing to such an extent as to make an old bird take notice. The pullets in the brooder house now are awakening at the break of dawn by the vociferous crowing of this half-pound youngster.

CHANCELLOR IN OVERNIGHT RISE

BERLIN, July 10.—UP—Dr. Heinrich Brüning, Germany's present chancellor, unlike many of his predecessors, has become an object of intense interest both within the country and abroad.

He is one of those rare men who have leaped to fame overnight. Until Hindenburg designated him to head the cabinet recently, Brüning was one of the most active members of the Catholic party and scarcely known beyond the Catholic (non-socialist) trade unions. The names and the reputations of previous chancellors were eclipsed by the foreign minister, as long as the late Stresemann held that post. But, Brüning assumed the dominant role in his cabinet from the very moment he took office.

System in Danger.

The whole parliamentary system in Germany was in danger—and many observers still consider it to be menaced—when Brüning seated himself in the chancellor's chair. The difficulties of forming a coalition government were great owing to the inability of the political parties concerned to agree on vital issues. When the government of the last chancellor, Herman Mueller, fell, and the big Socialist party entered the opposition at a moment when the business conditions of the Reich and the finances of the nation were in acute distress, fear was widespread that an era of political confusion might ensue which might upset the parliamentary apple cart. But, at that juncture Brüning stepped to the stage and introduced his new cabinet to the people.

Peculiar Cabinet

That new cabinet was a peculiar medley, uniting in its bosom men and parties, which, up to the previous day, had been pursuing opposite policies and striking at one another above or below the belt; these opposing factions did not at once become fast friends, but were linked together by the will power of Hindenburg, the strong personality of Brüning, and by economic interests which demanded reforms that could only be effectuated without or against the socialists. With a section of the press shouting strongly for a "strong man" at the helm, many believed Brüning would answer that description. He started out with a Mussolini touch, while proclaiming his sympathy with the parliamentary form of government, he curtly told the Reichstag deputies that they would either have to approve his budget, financial reforms and farm relief program, or be sent home pending new elections.

Brüning is the youngest chancellor in Germany's history; at 44 he holds the most important position in the country, excepting that of President Hindenburg. Born in 1885, in Muenster, Westphalia, he descended from a family of merchants, resident in that district for three centuries.

Robbery Story Jails Youth

VIENNA.—Because he feared his wife more than he feared the police and because he tried to deceive both his wife and the police, Gustav Stocker, a tailor's apprentice of Wiener-Neudorf for several weeks has been a free boarder in the village jail.

Having lost all of his week's wages gambling in a saloon and then becoming frightened at what would happen to him when his wife learned of his losses, Stocker went to the police and reported that he had been attacked and robbed by a highwayman while on his way home. Within a few hours, however, the police had discovered that his statements were untrue. Immediately he was arrested on a charge of perjury with intent to deceive law enforcement officers.

Old Yanktown Has History

BOSTON.—The Yankton has sailed into its last port. Shipwreckers are now breaking up the once magnificent craft which in its prime served as Sarah Bernhardt's private yacht and previously as the floating palace of King Edward VII of England.

Originally christened the Penelope, the vessel became the Cleopatra when bought by Bernhardt, and subsequently became the Sapphire when acquired by an American millionaire.

During the Spanish-American war the craft entered government service and was renamed the Yankton. It was under this name that the vessel, after becoming a runner in its declining days, recently was towed to Chelsea creek, graveyard of antiquated ships.

THE WOMAN OF IT

There's More Than One Way to Finance a Baby!

AB as it from us—under the bonny blue eye of Baby Mildred—Across-the-Boardwalk, and with the perfectly prodigious six-months-old Van Every Third down ocean-side—to aver or even to insinuate that a baby isn't worth all he or she costs. But for Baby's own sake—to say nothing of parents whose anxiety is in direct ratio to their affection—it's a good idea to estimate and appreciate exactly what has to be paid nowadays in dollars and cents for each addition to the family.

"Something for nothing is not given here." Fathers and mothers, present and prospective, note the latest infant's expense account, as presented by the Home Making Centre of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs!

The couple beginning married life on the far from extravagant income of $60 a week must, the Centre's budget experts estimate, receive an increase in income of not less than $700 a year when the first baby comes along, if they are to keep out of financial low water. A like increase is needed to finance each additional baby.

It is figured that, if the husband's earning power is $50 weekly when he marries, he must look ahead to having his salary almost doubled by the end of ten years to afford three children—unless the standard of living he had originally established is to be impaired.

"The homely old axiom 'there is always enough for one more mouth' is not applicable to-day," says Mrs. Charles E. Gregory, director of the Home Making Centre.

Just the right food for the baby's first four years, costs $5 a week—who doubts it, after paying the certified milk bills? Clothing, housing, health and savings all have their place in the child's ledger.

For doctor, dentist, laundry, care, school supplies, movies, toilet articles, haircuts and other incidentals, the child's budget is debited with from $20 to $50 a year—surely a most moderate charge, and one which often necessarily is exceeded. Also, if you want to send your child to college, you should put aside $250 a year for fifteen years.

These figures, as Mrs. Gregory says, are not intended to frighten couples away from parenthood, but to stimulate foresight and thrift. The theory, of course, was that the birth of a baby or babies spurred the proud father to fresh financial effort. Probably his ambition and energy often are thus kindled—nevertheless, they can't always fire the boss to bestow a raise!

IT SEEMS to us that there are at least two ways of meeting the high cost of the modern baby. One way is for Father to work harder and earn more, after Baby comes. But isn't it also a good idea for Mother—that is to say, for Mother-to-Be—to work and earn before Baby comes? If she has a good job when she marries, and yet her earnings are not immediately needed by the joint household, why shouldn't she put them into a Stock Endowment Fund? Then, when the bird makes his first trip—when, a few years later, the stock's cargo has to have teeth straightened or the inevitable tonsil adenoid operation—the money's THERE, thanks to Mother's turn at fifty-fifty wifedom.

Plenty of these young married women working downtown have such an idea in the back of the minds supposedly devoted to the acquisition of "pin-money." You'd be surprised!

INERTIA IN JUNE
June is the hollow that the mind goes in. And is content to be emotionless. It is for rest that gates of sleep close in. And shut out worlds of shadow loveliness.

Or are green leaves that dance about in wind. And skies adorned with curling cloud and gold. That sweep the inner chambers of the mind. With winter fancies and with thoughts grown old—So powerful that words grow pale and die. Or slunk away to wait a destined doom? Knowing the crunch of sharp green grass can still. The hungry soul's forever questing cry. Knowing the tang of earth and flower bloom.

A DISH A DAY

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

With the sharp decline of food prices within the last few days, even the most economical housewife finds a bewildering array of edibles to choose from. Beef, that most favored of meats in many homes, is cheaper than it has been in three years.

Some choice cuts are cheaper than they have been at any time in five years. Veal is also much lower in price than it has been for many months.

Summer is no time, however, to indulge in heavy roasts or steaks. It is better to cut down the amount of meat served, cooking it in combination with vegetables. An occasional roast, large enough to provide cold cuts and the main ingredient for casserole dishes for other days is the best summer policy.

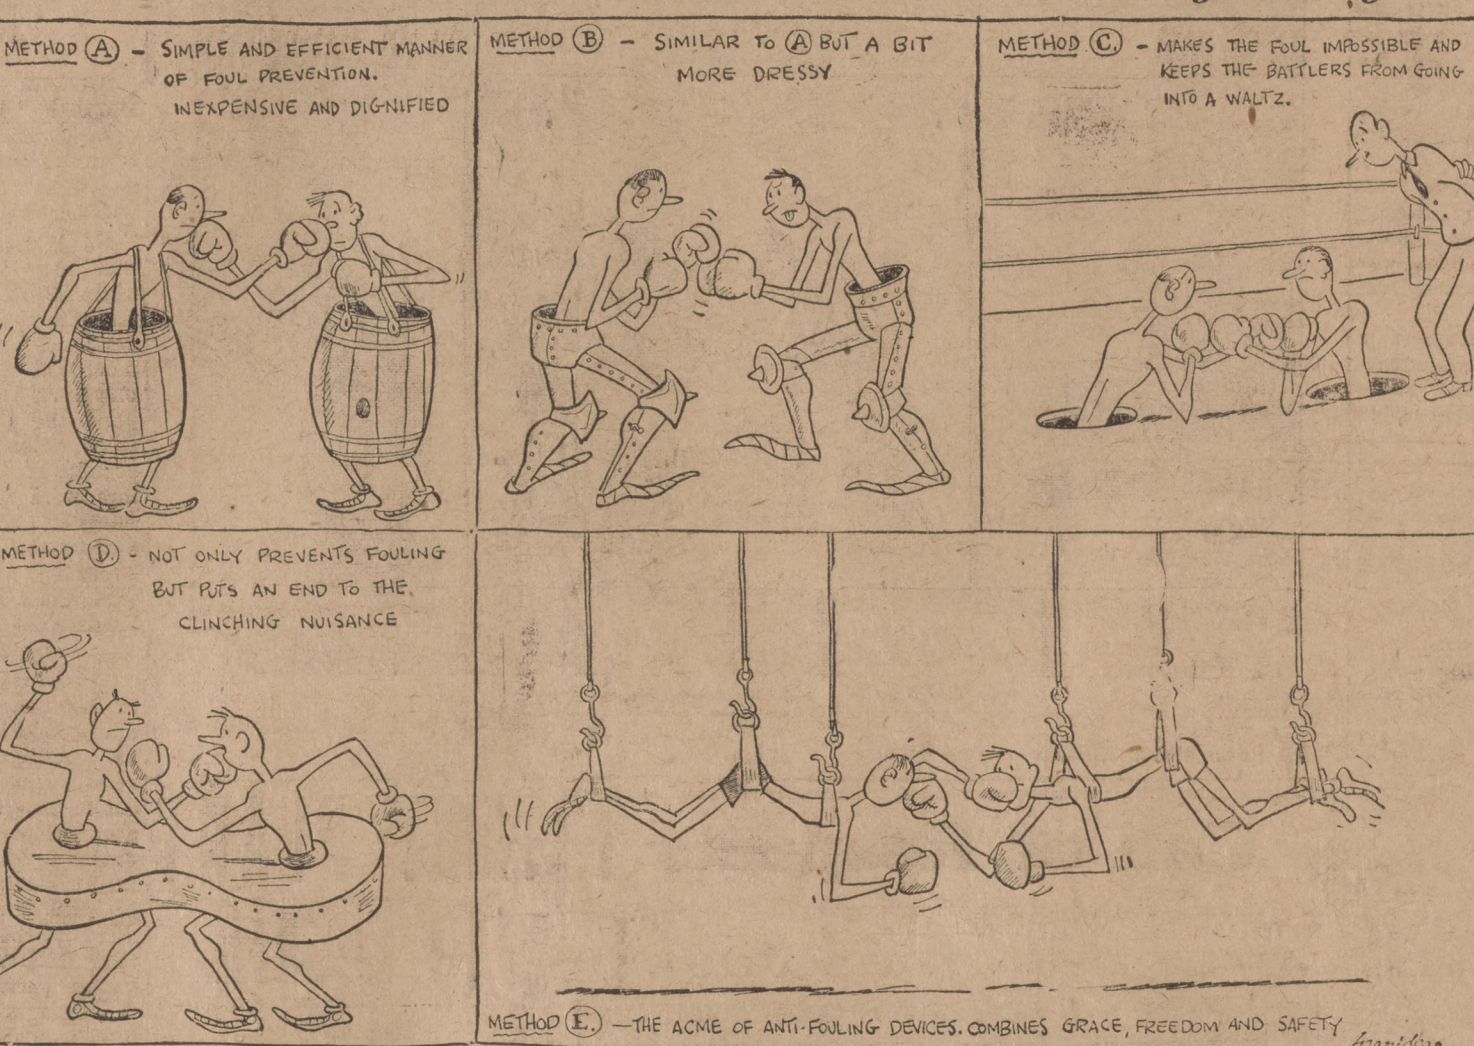

Corned beef is much more tempting and appetizing to most people during the warm weather than plain beef is, and in many homes it is kept always on hand in the kitchen for impromptu suppers. I dare say there are few housewives in the North, however, who know how delicious corned beef is in combination with veal, or in a vegetable casserole. This is a Southern specialty about which I am going to tell you.

First, however, I want to speak of marketing for corned beef. Unlike most meats, it cannot be judged by definite requirements as to color, texture and firmness. In buying a piece of corned beef one relies to a certain extent on blind luck, for even the most obliging butcher cannot tell you definitely which pieces are lean and which heavily layered in fat.

SUMMER MEAT LOAF
1 pound chopped veal (raw)
1/2 pound cooked corned beef cut in strips
1 egg
1 cup bread or cracker crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 green pepper, chopped
1 cup mushrooms
8 green olives, chopped
4 slices onion
1 cup lima beans, shelled
1 can tomato soup, or 2 cups tomatoes, seasoned
Cut the raw corn from the cob and mix with lima beans, pimiento, green peppers, mushrooms, olives and seasonings. Beat the egg and mix it with the ground veal. Butter a baking dish and put in it a layer of veal. Over this arrange a layer of vegetables. On the vegetables put strips of corned beef closely together, using one-half the whole amount called for. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and add one-half the tomato soup or tomatoes. Add the rest of the vegetables and corned beef strips. Pour on the meat of the tomatoes, dot with lumps of butter and bake in a moderately slow oven for forty-five minutes. After fifteen minutes' cooking, add one cup hot water if the dish seems a little dry. Serve hot.

Look Like Fall—Feel Like Summer

By Ann Roberts

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

POSSIBLY the worst sort of ennui that can come upon the human form is that tired-of-the-summer-clothes weariness.

Those days are coming. They're not here yet, but sure as fate they'll be here and what are you going to do about them? To trek about in a stringy chiffon, grand when it began but now a little the worse for wear, is something that no well dressed woman dares to contemplate. She has witnessed this horrid and wasting demise of summer clothes too often. Better kill them outright when their day is done—but what, in the middle of the season, to wear in their place? Goodness knows, you can't very often put on wool in September—not in this salubrious climate of ours.

Well, for once the designers and those hard workers who make it possible for us to dress at all have anticipated this approaching dress disaster. Evidently they, too, have suffered at some end-of-the-summer slights.

Travel Tweeds in Silk
It sounds like a misnomer—tweeds in silk, but that is just what they are—the softest of silks and the handsomest many times, printed in patterns that look enough like tweeds to be their blood relations.

They are labeled primarily for travel and you can't imagine anything more comfortable nor more all-around productive of satisfaction than one of these all-over silk patterns so artistically designed and done.

If you are putting off your vacation until the end of August, timed to run over into September perhaps, it just happens that you need something for travel with all of the characteristics above mentioned. And you've no idea how really smart they can be until you have seen them and actually realized the tempting quality of their make-up.

One of them—not too obviously an imitation of tweed (and they are perhaps a bit better this way) is in black and white—white flecks scattered over a black ground in patches, some quite closely grouped and others thrown more sparsely over the surface of black. This is a late summer print that has all the elements of wearability along with all the style that could possibly be demanded by the most fastidious of dressers.

This print made up in a tunic and coat dress is one of the newer designs for fall—and has a good deal of the look of the newer things, something inspirational to be wearing when the weariness of summer clothes begins to strike its blow.

Fighting Garden Insects

ROOT LICE may be controlled by spreading tobacco dust over the soil around infested plants.

Caterpillars can be controlled by spraying with arsenate of lead. The spray is made by mixing together three level teaspoons of arsenate of lead with four quarts of water. This solution should not be used on plants with tender foliage.

Should cutworms prove troublesome surround the plants with paper collars. These are easy to make; cut a ring of heavy paper and place this around the plant, burying it about an inch under the ground and allowing it to extend three inches above the ground. Paint the inside with a thick mixture of arsenate, molasses and bran.

If earthworms should prove very troublesome, water the lawn with lime water. Before using the lime water, allow the liquid to settle and clear.

The aphid is a small, green or whitish insect, whose favorite haunt is the tender green ends of rose branches. The aphid can be gotten rid of by the use of a stiff stream of water from the garden hose, or by spraying with any of the nicotine preparations.

To check Japanese beetle spray the trees and foliage with a custom-made spray of kerosene. Beetle traps will also help to check this pest.

To-Day's Good Manners

By Millicent James

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

BUSINESS before pleasure is the order of the day. Those who do not have to work for the remuneration of it get into the field of endeavor somewhere, somehow, for the excitement that there may be in it, so it's smart now to have a job. The society girl has gone to work, and manners and a manner are coveted qualifications.

This fact has brought an entirely new note into the personnel of the business world, a note of sophistication that is to be taken very seriously, for it is changing the standards of business etiquette and placing them on an entirely different scale. There was a time when the person of ultra-refinement in business was regarded as an interloper, to be ignored or patronized as a mere incident, by the rest of the force, but all that is changed. Culture and refinement are at a premium. Heads of departments have at last begun to realize that the qualities that they bring—the quiet, carefully-modulated voice and good diction, the assurance and poise and finish, the way of wearing clothes, the practiced way of meeting people—all these, along with that certain air that society persons have, or are supposed to have inherited with their social status, fit in admirably in the business world.

And so they do. And it isn't at all to be wondered at that the girl recruited from the rank and file of society should be considered an asset to the rank and file of labor. If she performs her duties satisfactorily, why the manner and manners are additional attributes, and by her very presence must have an effect on the general standard.

The well-mannered person is well-mannered wherever she is placed, whether she hails from Park Avenue or Avenue A, and whether she is in a business place or at home, she is certain to do so, and don't think that is instinctive with the well-bred, which the girl who has had fewer advantages may have to acquire.

TELLING THE WORLD

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS CLOSELY
RULES for the care and training of Lindy's baby:

1. The infant shall be given a compass to play with at the earliest possible moment.
2. Refueling will take place every two hours. (The 10 o'clock feeding, however, may be omitted later on.)
3. The nurse shall see to it that the baby in no case is exposed to sunburn by flashlight powder.
4. When the infant begins to talk, see that it does not do so in the presence of reporters.

5. The nurse shall never sing "Rock-a-bye-Baby on the Tree-Top" without first ascertaining that the baby is wearing its parachute.
6. Accept no contracts or offers for the infant to appear in vaudeville, motion pictures or talk on the radio.
7. Impress baby that he must always be in time, according to schedule.
8. In explaining American history to young Lindy, tell him Abraham Lincoln was born in a cabin monoplan.

9. If baby ever asks where daddy is, it will be generally safe to tell him daddy is off inaugurating a new air mail route.
10. The baby carriage should be fitted as closely as possible to resemble a cockpit and should have a windshield in front of it.

11. In case a rubber tire should fall off the baby carriage, don't let that prevent you from giving baby his ride just the same.
12. Teach him to drink his milk from a thermos bottle.

13. Never carry baby upstairs to his crib without having an altimeter and a sealed barometer.

14. On attaining boyhood, young Lindy should play with a glider instead of a kite.

15. When the nurse takes Lindy junior for a go-cart ride around the block, she shall always state she is going to an unannounced destination.

16. The baby shall be spanked only with a propeller blade.

17. Always put him to sleep under an electric fan. This will help him to become air-minded.

18. Read the baby weather reports instead of bedtime stories.

ALL PAPERS IN NAVY PACT ORDERED

that is to say, whether they should be considered in closed session.

Papers Told

The papers themselves are authoritatively said to be outspoken comments by Dawes and the diplomats with whom he held preliminary discussions, including Prime Minister MacDonald, on political conditions affecting the possibility of negotiating the treaty.

The action clears the way for debate on treaty itself. Only three or four more pro-treaty senators will make extended speeches, and an attempt will be made to reach a final vote within ten days. Eight more pro-treaty senators are expected tomorrow to bolster the bare quorum now present, and if all now here are retained they will remove the threat of retirement of the opponents to prevent the senate from taking any action.

Imperialism

Hoover and Secretary Stimson will take up the question of submitting the documents tomorrow after the resolution is formally placed before them. White House and department officials today refused to comment, but recalled that Hoover twice has refused to place the complete documents before the senate foreign relations committee.

Today's debate leading up to the vote took on the aspects of a filibuster, with three anti-treaty senators, Copeland, Dem. N. Y. Shipstead, farm labor, Minn., and Johnson, Rep., California, discussing the wider aspects of international relations.

Shipstead launched into an attack charging the state department with imperialism and praising Hoover for his action to investigate and straighten out the affairs of Haiti. The president by this action repudiated the policy which the department followed in the negro republic for 15 years, he said.

20-30 Club To Have Charter Night August 15

A session devoted to the discussion of plans for their charter night was held yesterday at the regular meeting and luncheon of the 20-30 club in the Hotel Carquinez.

The charter night will be held Friday, August 15, in conjunction with the first anniversary of the Berkeley 20-30 club.

Jack Harrison was chairman of the day. The next meeting will be held next Thursday noon in the Hotel Carquinez.

Chicago Gang Slays Another Racketeer

CHICAGO, July 10.—UP—Gangsters ignored unprecedented police activity caused by the Alfred 'Jake' Lingle assassination by coolly murdering another racketeer today in his own home.

Two men appeared at the door of the house in which lived Thomas Bonner, 10 years a gangster. Bonner set down his five-months-old son to answer the bell. The pair engaged him in a heated argument, said Bonner's wife.

"Honest, you guys have got me all wrong," said Bonner. "Not this time," said one of the men.

They fired several shots. Bonner died in a hospital, the 47th member of Chicago's underworld to meet similar fate since the first of the year.

Investigation into the death of Lingle, veteran Chicago Tribune reporter, faltered, meanwhile, in a maze of conflicting reports, statements and charges.

The newest mystery in connection with Lingle's death concerned the reported capture and subsequent release in Los Angeles of James 'Red' Forsythe, gangster sought for the actual slaying.

Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office characterized the reports as "bunk" after a long distance telephone conversation with one of his operatives on the coast.

More Growers Sign Grape Aid Plan At Fresno

FRESNO, July 10.—UP—A mass meeting of 2500 vineyardists, which started without enthusiasm came to a close with a wild demonstration shortly before midnight tonight when indications were given that 47,000 acres would be signed up tomorrow in the big drive to obtain federal aid from the federal farm board for the grape industry.

If all indications of the meeting are carried out, the campaign will remain only 23,000 acres short, with an extension of time until July 14 granted by the farm board.

Wylie M. Giffen, head of the campaign committee, had declared that he and his committee believed they could complete the campaign in ten days, but not in five. He had pleaded with growers to accept the farm board challenge "to do the impossible."

Then Joseph di Gorgia jumped to his feet and proclaimed that he would sign up his 16,000 acres tomorrow. It is expected that interests allied with di Gorgia, and owning 10,000 acres would follow suit.

A representative of the California Vineyardist association followed with a declaration that 15,000 acres would be signed up tomorrow.

Warrant Server Warns Unwisely

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—An officer knocked at the door of John Anderson's apartment at 10 p. m. "I have a warrant for your arrest," the officer told Anderson.

"Wait a minute until I dress," Anderson replied. The officer waited politely for 30 minutes and then found Anderson had slipped out through a rear door.

A magistrate remarked recently that marriage was the end of a man's troubles. He didn't say which end.

RALPH FLEAGLE HANGED AT PRISON

after embracing the Catholic faith before being led to the gallows, by Father Barrett.

His last salutation to the group of witnesses was: "Jesus have mercy on my soul."

No Break

Dr. Holmes, who examined him (Fleagle) just before the execution, said the condemned man's heart was beating regularly and that he gave no physical signs of being disturbed in any way. Apparently Fleagle made good his boasts that he would go to his death without weakening.

A guard who went into the death house just before Fleagle was led out to the execution chamber, reported Fleagle was kneeling in prayer.

"Are you ready?" the guard asked.

Was Calm

Father Barrett repeated the question to Fleagle.

"You bet," was Fleagle's calm reply.

When the death march started, Fleagle walked steadily. There was no sign that he might falter.

No Delay

There was no delay. Fleagle entered the death house. The noose was placed around his neck. His body was jerked into the air.

During the last few months of his imprisonment, Fleagle won the respect of guards and all who came in contact with him through his gentlemanly conduct.

It was not until late this afternoon — when he had his final visit with his mother — that he decided to embrace religion and it was his mother's wish that influenced him.

Pals Removed

Royston and Abshier, Fleagle's accomplices, were taken out of the death house and put in the bull pen beside the administration building before Fleagle was led out.

The gang chief himself was taken to the infirmary at supper time and dressed for his death. He wore dark trousers and a white shirt.

The one prayer that he had uttered all along, although he had not embraced religion, was that he would not break down at the last moment. It was answered.

Divides Property

Not once did the condemned man give way to sentimentality. This afternoon, before he died, he divided his property — the wealth he had accumulated through years of outlawry. He divided the major share between his wife and mother, and also took care of his sister.

Fleagle reputedly was worth $100,000. It was reported that he owned property in several Kansas and California cities. At one time he owned a pool hall in Oregon. Among his properties, it was reported, was an apartment building in Los Angeles.

Fleagle, the dead man, and Abshier and Royston are former residents of Richmond. Fleagle at one time operated a pool room on Macdonald avenue.

Sing Knows It's Saturday Too

RALEIGH, N. C. July 10.—UP—The boy who knows Saturday is the day for his weekly bath has nothing on "Sing," large bird dog owned by a Raleigh army officer.

The seventh day of the week is one he knows. Therefore, the dog's owner locks the front door. Otherwise, Sing will run out and cross the street to safety. If the major whistles, Sing places a city block between himself and home.

The dog will go no closer to the bathroom than his bed in the hallway. The major drags him the rest of the way. Sing can tell his bath is near by the major's presence at home early Saturday afternoon.

Hammer Murderess Parole Plea Delayed

SAN QUENTIN, July 10.—UP—An indefinite postponement in considering the appeal of Clara Phillips, 'hammer murderess' for parole, was decided upon late today by the state parole board meeting here. Only a quorum of three members was present at the session and it was decided to wait until all five members were together before taking action on the appeal.
